President's Message Jim Newman

Happy Valentine's Day

Since our last meeting I have received some emails asking if we could do some fun things at our meetings and not just the short educational presentation and our business meeting. The idea is doing things after the business meeting that you could stay for or go home. One idea was puppy socialization and discussing the qualities of the puppies. Another idea might be doing a service project for Sheltie Rescue or doing games with our dogs. Those are a few ideas but this month I am asking you to come to the meeting with some other ideas that we can discuss and make our time together more enjoyable.

Member Spotlight

Getting to know our Members:

State your full name(s): Tricia Harris

2) Kennel name and how you came up with it: Lacewood Shelties; I originally bred under the kennel name of Silvertip shelties. I lived on Silvertip lane and bred AOAC's so it seemed appropriate. When I got married, my husband did not feel like he was a part of Silvertip Shelties and he wanted to be included in the dogs at first. I was out of dogs for several years and when we got back in to dogs we started to look for a kennel name. My husband loves to do woodworking and was working with a lot of exotic woods at the time. We thought about different names of exotic woods, when Lacewood came up I loved it. It had the feminine flare that I wanted but was associated with his love of wood. Just before we picked Lacewood as our kennel name, we got a Maltese that we named Lacey, it all kind of fit into place. I still like Silvertip though!!

3) How did you first become interested in shelties? I graduated from nurses training and moved to Midway Utah. My roommate in Midway wanted to get a Sheltie. I had never heard of the breed before that. When she explained to me that they were miniature collies I was hooked. I had always loved collies having grown up when Lassie was popular. When we both went to find dogs, I bought a sheltie and she bought a Lhasa Apso. A couple of years after getting that first sheltie I saw an ad in the newspaper for a "rare white" sheltie. It turned out to be a color headed white that was a blue merle. I was always looking for rare so I bought her. She was a High Born Granddaughter. That started me to become interested in the show ring.

4) Who was your first sheltie and what color was he/she? My very first Sheltie was a little pet Sable and White sheltie. She was darling. I named her Dusty. She was very smart and beautiful in my eyes. She surely would not have ever made it in the show ring today, but I loved her dearly. The first dog of good breeding was my Color headed white, Misty, she was sired by Beverly Danvers Champion High Born son, Shadow. Misty is the dog that started my quest to find better and better dogs.

5) Do you breed shelties? What lines do you breed? Most of the breedings that I do are AOACs. They would go back to Banchory lines.

6) Who was/is your mentor, Who do we thank for getting you started? In the beginning Bev Danvers got me started wanting to show dogs. I started to train and show my dogs in obedience to begin with. Many of the obedience people of the day were also showing in conformation. Pretty much the entire sheltie club back then were also members of the Obedience club. Showing in obedience really got me excited to try the conformation ring. It is hard to go from one to the other and I spent a lot of years shipping bitches to really nice boys trying to improve my lines so that I could have a dog nice enough for the show ring.

7) How many dogs do you have? What titles do your dogs have? I trained my second sheltie to a UDX. Misty, the blue color headed white was trained for her CDX. My sable male, Brock has his CD. I have 3 champions at my house right now. 2 of those are homebred champions and one has a BISS.

8) Who is your favorite dog (that you own)? Oh that is like asking who my favorite child is. It depends on the day. I just adore them all. I'm glad I have low enough numbers to get personally involved with each one of them. I love them all for different reasons. They have personalities as varied as humans have. I have a relationship with each one of them. Brock is my first Champion, he is certainly one of my favorites. Draco who is my first homebred champion is a favorite. Luci, my BISS girl is definitely a dog I could spend all day just looking at. She is beautiful and sometimes I just watch her. I have a Ch. Macdega Notorious daughter that is the same way. She is just beautiful. I can't wait for her to grow up to see if her promise holds. I can't pick just one. They are all my favorites for different reasons.

9) Who is your favorite dog not owned by you (living or passed)? There are a lot of dogs that are my favorite. I don't think I can name just 1. Ch. Harvest Hill Shoe-shine Boy was one of my all time favorite dogs. I think I wore out every Pacesetter that came to my house with his picture in it. I have always loved Ch. Sea Haven

Shannalee

Brock

Chasing Moonbeams. He really intrigues me. At the National this year I got to see and go over Ch. Macdega Notorious. As I slid my hands along his head I had tears fill my eyes. It was a real visceral response. I think he is stunning.

10) Who do you admire? I admire a lot of people. I have enjoyed getting to know Shannalee. She is so knowledgeable and willing to share. I feel that she has a lot of integrity and I really admire that. Tom and Nioma Coen have done so much for this breed, I was so impressed with them at the seminar that we had. I admire the fact that they would come to Utah to share their knowledge. I really admire breeders that have achieved greatness. I really admire Donna Harden for the vision that she had in breeding dogs. I don't admire her ethics but she really had a keen eye and a vision that progressed this breed. I have really enjoyed getting to know David and Sylvia Calderwood. They are so knowledgeable and willing to share.

Kari — Notorious daughter

11) What is your favorite part of showing dogs? Winning!! Since I don't do that enough there must be more than that that I like huh. I love the association with friends. I love the dogs themselves. I really enjoy the company of my dogs. I love seeing them transform from a little dog in the back yard to a beautiful show dog. I am always transfixed when I watch them transform while grooming them.

12) What has been your favorite or most memorable win?

Oh hands down when Luci went Winners bitch at our first specialty last year for a 5 point major specialty win only to go Best of Breed at our 2nd specialty over 6 specials!! That was 10 points in one day. I'm not sure I'll ever top that one. I'm still stunned. She is a very deserving bitch, but I did not walk in to that ring with any expectation of that happening!!!

13) Is there a dog that you own now that you are particularly excited about?

Traci— Luci X Chase litter

Oh yes, my Notorious daughter Kari. I can't wait to see her grow up. I am also excited by the litter I have right now by Ch Sea Haven Chasing Moonbeams X Ch. Lacewood Bi Starlight. "Luci" There is a darling little bi blue bitch puppy in there that I am really excited to see grow up and a cute little bi black girl. Shannalee has a boy out of the same litter and the Calderwoods have a bi black girl from that litter as well. All of them look promising. Here's hoping that they all turn out!!

14) What goals have you set for yourself in purebred dogs? I hope to never stop progressing. I want to continue to improve myself. It is easy to keep going with the same dogs and lines that you have. I hope that I can make myself continue to progress. I would love to have some more exciting wins, but my goal is to continue to better myself.

Luci's BISS win

15) Any words of advice for newcomers? If you really want to show dogs, keep going. It is hard and there are many roadblocks. It is easy to get discouraged along the way. Find a mentor if you can. Don't give up too soon. It takes a long time to get started in this game. You grow out a lot of puppies sometimes before you find one that is really nice. It is hard to get a breeder to trust you with a really nice dog unless they know you are serious, you can prove you are serious by being at shows, asking questions, coming to club meetings and seminars. Just by making the effort to be around you will find doors open up to you.

Notes on Teeth

Dental Formula

By Dana Quinney
Taken from Dana's website
from her Breeder's Notebook
[http://www.kennelcity.com/
cdnote.html](http://www.kennelcity.com/cdnote.html)

Welcome to the Clan Duncan Breeder's Notebook. All of us wear many "hats" as we travel through life. Here in the Breeder's Notebook, I put on two of my professional "hats," those of biologist and scientific illustrator, to bring you thoughts and perspectives from my own personal vision of the Sheltie. These pages are offered in a spirit of inquiry and with a desire to share.

On the first page of the Breeder's Notebook, I offer a look at Sheltie teeth, their functions, and where they are located in the skull.

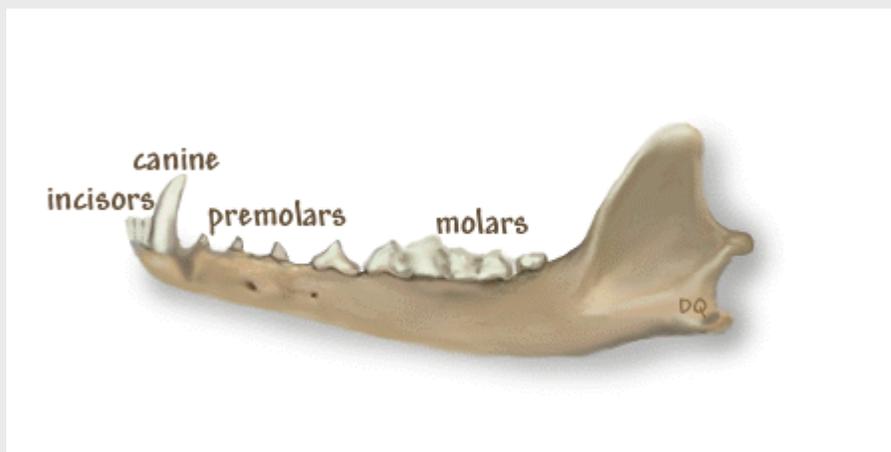

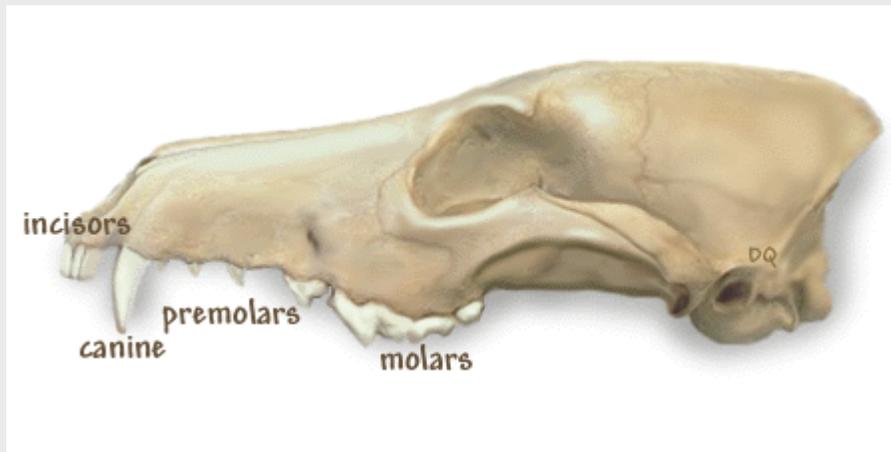

Our breed, happily, has a "dog-shaped" skull. By this I mean that no gross distortions of the basic canid skull plan are required by the AKC Sheltie Standard. I have examined thousands of coyote skulls and perhaps ten Sheltie skulls. In some cases the skulls of coyote and Sheltie were so similar that it was quite difficult to distinguish one from the other until I looked at the teeth. (Sheltie teeth tend to be smaller. Also, of course, in a Sheltie of excellent breed type, the backskull will be narrower and flatter than that of a coyote, and the zygomatic arches more flattened.) Having a basic dog-shaped skull is good. This means that Sheltie teeth need not be crowded, misaligned, or otherwise adversely affected as we strive for perfection in breed type.

Let's look at a Sheltie skull. Remember, the teeth appear to be larger and longer in a skull than in a live dog, since the gums are not present.

from her Breeder's Notebook
[http://www.kennelcity.com/
cdnote.html](http://www.kennelcity.com/cdnote.html)

A domestic dog, Canis familiaris, typically has on each side of each jaw the following teeth: three incisors, one canine, four premolars, and two or three molars. Incisors are used for biting and cutting, canines for stabbing and grasping, premolars for holding, and molars for crushing and tearing.

Characteristics that take away from the utility of a structure are called "degenerate characteristics." As a breed Shelties have few degenerate characteristics, compared to many other breeds. For the health of our breed and of our beloved individual Shelties, this is an excellent state of affairs. One degenerate characteristic sometimes seen in Shelties is missing teeth. Of course, a wild canid with missing teeth might be at a disadvantage when capturing and eating prey, so this is not good. In Shelties, the teeth most often found missing are premolars. Also, in many Shelties with full dentition, the first two premolars have been reduced to tiny points of enamel, barely visible above the gums. Having a missing tooth or two will not affect the health of an individual Sheltie, but as a general rule, I suggest that breeders may wish to avoid mating two dogs that have missing teeth, and should watch carefully that teeth in their bloodlines are not being reduced in size to the point where they become invisible or absent.

I Have a Question

This Month's Question:

What brand of dog food do you feed and what ingredients do you look for or stay away from?

I feed Purina One Salmon for sensitive stomachs. Although my dogs do not have sensitive stomachs.

I really like this food. My dog's weight is easy to maintain and I can switch any dog to it without getting diarrhea, even if I do not switch them slowly over as we are supposed to. — Diane Orr, Windabrae Shelties

I feed Exceed, Chicken and Rice. I purchase it at Sam's club.

I really like the food. I have had the most consistency with it overall. I have tried just about all foods and most all do well. I think there should be a balance of protein to carbohydrates in food and the "Exceed" seems to achieve that well.

I do stay away from lamb as a protein source. I just haven't had good luck with it versus the chicken. I don't feed puppy food and wean my babies right over to this food.

—Shannalee Michalsky, Akadia Shelties

This is interesting timing for this question. I have been feeding Pro Plan for a long time with good results. About the time they came out with the new formula for Pro Plan I started to have problems with my dogs. I am not seeing as nice of coats, the dogs were losing weight and I noticed diarrhea and occasional vomiting. I saw on the shelties lists where others were experiencing the same kinds of symptoms with the new formula. I have now switched my dogs to the Pro Plan Performance which is just a couple of dollars more expensive than the regular Pro Plan and I have found these symptoms to be disappearing. I understand that Pro Plan is planning to bring back their original formula. I will probably stay with the performance for now. — Tricia Harris, Lacewood Shelties

Next Month's Question: Where/how do you buy your fresh-chilled kits, and which ones do you like best, and why?? What has been your experience with fresh chilled breedings, have they been successful etc and how is the best way to hand them?

(Please submit answers to Tricia at lacewoodshelties@comcast.net)

If you have a question for this column that you would like to receive an answer for, you can submit the question anonymously to Tricia at lacewoodshelties@comcast.net or mail to Tricia Harris 2082 Mountain Vista Lane, Provo, UT 84606

Meat Balls

take 4 lbs ground meat...Buffalo, turkey, beef, or chicken
 1 lb liver ground up.....( beef or chicken, turkey)
 2 c. powder milk
 4 eggs
 Optional:
 2 TBS parsley, or 1 tsp garlic.
 1/2 lb. ground tallow.

mix well (this is a sticky mess)

If too sticky to form .. Add bone meal or if your dogs can have it (ground brown rice)
 Form into balls or strips.
 Dehydrate for about three days
 place in air tight containers.

These balls work great as a training treat as well.
 You can roll dogs supplement tabs in side the balls before you dehydrate them..

*** Shannalee is in need of more members to volunteer to fill in this questionnaire. Please fill it out and send it in to her!!!!

Dear Club Members——

I am doing club member interviews in the form of a few simple questions. I have started sending them out via email to some members but have had little response. If you all would take the time to just answer the questions and email them or mail them to me, I would really appreciate it. WE WANT TO GET TO KNOW YOU!

Please fill out the following questionnaire about yourself. If the question does not apply to you, please just go on to the next one.

Thank you

USSA Board Meeting Minutes January 21, 2009

In attendance: Cherie Hyde, Peggy & Jim Newman, Judy Williamson, Cheryl Sorensen, Mike Cornella, Sarah Bagdoian, Kevin & Julene Mathews.

Guest: Linda Cornella

Welcome and meeting called to order at 5:50p.m.

Jim asked if there were corrections to the November minutes, no corrections noted. Mike motioned and Cheryl seconded to accept the November minutes as printed. Motion carried.

Reports:

Secretary: Sarah did not have anything to report.

Corresponding Secretary: Peggy sent contracts out to all the judges, but hasn't had any response from them yet.

Treasurer: Mike read the financial report. All the 2009 Sheltie Calendars have been sold. Monthly bills have been paid.

Judy displayed a sample of a calendar holder we could possibly create to use proceeds from the sale of this along with the calendars to raise money. Cheryl will check on the cost to produce the holders.

Cheryl motioned to order 125 calendars to sell for 2010. Peggy seconded motion and all approved.

Peggy motioned to accept Treasurers report and Judy seconded, motion carried.

President:

Jim mentioned the Constitution, By-Laws and Standing Rules and reminded the board to review and edit these documents. Tricia Harris, Shirley McLaughlin and Doug Sorenson are also to review these then the documents will be presented for a Club vote.

Show: No volunteer has come forward to be a hospitality or raffle chair. Peggy said she would take on the hospitality. It was suggested we simply do a money jar raffle to simplify the event.

Judges have been hired. Ribbons have been ordered.

Cheryl suggested putting the USSA logo on the stainless steel winners buckets.

Jim mentioned that it's getting more expensive to print the premium for the show.

Kevin motioned to give Jim $250 for use of producing the premium list, Cheryl seconded and the motion carried.

Honorary Membership: Jim mentioned that the Calderwoods have been nominated to be honorary members. David Calderwood has been and would continue to be an asset on pet/animal legislative issues. Judy motioned and Kevin seconded to have the Calderwoods as Honorary Members, motion carried. This will still be mentioned to the general club and voted on there too.

Other committees: Julene and Jim talked about nominating people to be chair of the various committees.

Tomi Hamblin will continue to Chair the Sunshine Committee

There needs to be chairs for the following committees:

Awards and Hospitality/Refreshments among others.

Judy suggested having a meeting on how to find a lost dog. This will be an education topic for the March meeting. Canine first aide will be education topic for February.

Peggy motioned and Judy seconded to adjourn meeting. Motion carried.

Meeting adjourned 6:30p.m.

USSA General Club Meeting Minutes January 21, 2009

In attendance: Cherie Hyde, Peggy & Jim Newman, Judy Williamson, Cheryl Sorensen, Mike & Linda Cornella, Sarah Bagdoian, Kevin & Julene Mathews, Ava Pickering, Tricia Harris, Diana Beebe

Guest Speaker: Lance of Alta Vet Clinic discussed canine oral care.

Meeting called to order by Jim at 7:30p.m.

Brag: Linda Cornella had two dogs she bred finish recently.

Jim welcomed everyone. He then asked if the November minutes were correct. Peggy motioned and Judy seconded to approve November minutes as printed. Motion passed.

President's Report: We had a great Christmas party and Tomi did a wonderful job. It was fun and entertaining.

Corresponding Secretary report:

The judges contracts have been sent out and she is waiting for them to return.

Please verify and correct the membership list.

Treasury Report: Mike read the financial report. Julene motioned to accept Treasurers report and Cheryl seconded. Motion passed.

Committee report:

Need hospitality and raffle chair. Peggy volunteered to be hospitality chair, but since no one volunteered to be raffle chair the Board decided to simply do a money jar raffle.

Cheryl has ordered the rosettes. Trophies still need to be painted and worked on.

Cheryl also suggested printing clear labels with the USSA logo on the stainless steel buckets along with the donor(s) name.

Obedience Chairman was absent. Jim reported that she has hired Mel Stanley to do obedience and rally for us.

No unfinished business.

New business: Jim mentioned having the Calderwoods as Honorary Members. Tricia motioned and Judy seconded to have the Calderwoods as Honorary Members. Jim has talked with them and they have indicated they would accept and would be honored to be honorary members.

It was also mentioned that the board has decided to order 125 calendars for 2010 since we easily sold 75 for 2009.

Motioned made by Judy and seconded by Cheryl and Mike to adjourn meeting. Meeting adjourned at 8:00p.m.
